2022 CHINA'S WINE LIST OF THE YEAR - RESULTS AND REVIEWS

2022 中国酒单大奖 – 结果和评语

Leading experts from China have partnered with some of the world's most respected Master Sommeliers, Masters of Wine, wine media and wine judges to rate, review and reward the best wine lists from China's finest restaurants, hotels, cafes, wine bars and clubs.

来自中国领先的专业人士们与一些世界上最受尊敬的侍酒大师、葡萄酒大师、葡萄酒媒体和评委们对来自大中华区最优秀的餐厅、酒店、咖啡馆、酒吧和俱乐部的最好的酒单进行排名、点评和表彰。

Any restaurants that have been given a Glass Rating are commended lists, and they are all here for you to discover. See how they've rated, read the judges review, use this as a guide and you can explore with confidence new wine and dining destinations from across Mainland China, Hong Kong, Macau and Taiwan.

任何被授予了一个杯数排名的餐厅都是推荐的酒单，他们在此等候着您去发现。看他们是如何被评委排名和点评的，并以此作为指南帮助您信心满满地去探索来自中国大陆、香港、澳门和台湾的新葡萄酒和餐饮机构。

Understanding this Results and Review Guide: Only wine lists that have been awarded a Glass Rating are included in this Results and Reviews Guide.

Cuisine: Classic Cantonese

Wine list by Demi Lei

Wine on list: 250 (12 by the glass)

Wine prices: $

By the glass: 68 - 388 RMB

The list opens with an impressive collection of Sake, enough to satisfy even the most curious, and this is well supported by carefully chosen champagnes, both large Houses and Growers, with some real stars. The focus then is on quality Burgundy, red and white, with plenty of options for those looking further afield. A well compiled list.

Wine on list: 898 (39 by the glass)

Wine prices: $$$

By the glass: 50 - 5960 RMB

Since 2015, 1515 Chophouse + Bar has excited our tastebuds with a great selection of wines from around the world, well-suited to its American-style chophouse cuisine. No-where is this better explored than in the wines by the glass offering, including some jaw-dropping once-in-a-lifetime wines such as Penfolds Grange, DRC and Rousseau served under Coravin. In keeping with its cuisine, expect to be offered a full range of red wine styles which dominate the list. And how exciting is it to see the growing number of quality wines listed from new and established Chinese wineries? Take time at the start of your meal to enjoy a cocktail, Chophouse has some stunners.

By the glass: 88 - 128 RMB

There is a sense of pride in the comprehensive listing of Chinese wines on the 28 HuBin Street wine list. Benchmark wines of France feature strongly – be it Champagne, Burgundy, Bordeaux or the Rhône. The thoughtful integration of Grande Marque Houses and Grower Champagnes adds gravitas. A tight selection of wines from the rest of the vinous world completes this impressive list, which offers failsafe wines for less knowledgeable customers alongside pleasant surprises for the more wine savvy guests. A 2009 Château Mouton Rothschild is sure to impress the most important guest.

Best Champagne List

With a range of exclusive imported wines to champion, expect to see some names re-appearing throughout this list such as La Spinetta, Contratto, Rocche dei Manzoni and more. They are the core around which flows a river of top wine names principally from Italy and France. The emphasis is on classic and established wine names and regions, rather than emerging stars and styles. But if you care to work your way through the 500+ wines there are some gems to be discovered from Sicily, southern Italy, Piedmont and beyond. The range of Italian digestifs are worth waiting for.

Cuisine: Modern Teochew

Wine list by Lu Yang (Top Sommelier Studio), Simon Li

Wine on list: 72 (6 by the glass)

Wine prices: $$

By the glass: 108 - 480 RMB

This is the shortest list of the three 'Amazing' restaurants in Shanghai which offer 'Neo-Teochew' cuisine matched with only Champagne and Burgundy. There's no doubting the quality of the wines though some might balk at the prices. It is an immaculately presented list.

Cuisine: Modern Teochew

Wine list by Lu Yang (Top Sommelier Studio), Simon Li

Wine on list: 276 (6 by the glass)

Wine prices: $$$

By the glass: 108 - 300 RMB

This is one of the three 'Amazing' restaurants in Shanghai which offer 'Neo-Teochew' cuisine matched with mainly Champagne and Burgundy. They are all beautifully presented lists. This is the most impressive of the three as it goes beyond those great wines to offer many of the world's finest from countries other than France. The quality of the wines is there with prices to match. An impressive array of spirits, too.

AMAZING CHINESE CUISINE (WAI TAN)

Cuisine: Modern Teochew

Wine list by Lu Yang (Top Sommelier Studio), Simon Li

Wine on list: 112 (6 by the glass)

Wine prices: $$

By the glass: 108 - 480 RMB

This is one of three lists of 'Amazing' restaurants from this group in Shanghai which offer 'Neo-Teochew' cuisine. Two of them matched the food with only Champagne and Burgundy. There's no doubting the quality of the wines though some might balk at the prices. It is an immaculately presented list.

AMELIA HONG KONG

Shop OT G63, Ground Floor, Ocean Terminal, 3-27 Canton Rd, Tsim Sha Tsui, Hong Kong (and SAR) - 56000343

Cuisine: Spanish

Wine list by Calvin Choi

Wine on list: 400 (20 by the glass)

Wine prices: $$

By the glass: 75 - 190 HKD

The focus on organic, biodynamic and lo-fi wines is born out in the Amelia selection, which features many wines not typically seen on HK lists. Plenty of French, Italian & even Australian lo-fi favourites here with only an attention to detail and a slight shift to fresher whites needed for ultimate success.

ANISE SHENZHEN

City Square No. 117, 4055 Jiabin Road, Luohu District,
Shenzhen, Guangdong 518000

Cuisine: French
Wine list by Thomas Ekstrand, Tank Tan
Wine on list: 249 (14 by the glass)
Wine prices: $$
By the glass: 130 - 720 RMB

Dipping into some of the more contemporary styles from across the new and old world, Anise's list is less about trying to be a 'phone book' of wine, and more about well chosen selections. Value is the trump card here - the prices here are excellent given the undeniable quality of the wines

ATTA BJ

Ground Floor 83 Jianguo Street, Chaoyang District, Beijing
100020

Cuisine: Italian
Wine list by Jiawang Cao
Wine on list: 143 (11 by the glass)
Wine prices: $
By the glass: 85 - 129 RMB

If you are looking for wines made using organic, biodynamic or sustainable practices, there is plenty on offer at Atta BJ. There is also a substantial number of natural wines. While a number of Italian wines are available, in line with the restaurant's cuisine, the list is heavily French-focused. Champagne is a focus, as is Burgundy.

THE AUBREY, MANDARIN ORIENTAL

5 Connaught Road, Central, Hong Kong (and SAR) .
+852 2522 0111

Cuisine: Japanese Izakaya
Wine list by Marie-Paule Herman, Justin Ng
Wine on list: 261 (32 by the glass)
Wine prices: $$$
By the glass: 120 - 340 HKD

All things Japanese are celebrated at The Aubrey – be it the food, wine, sake and spirits. It starts with a tight selection of Japanese wines – accompanied by a map to give a better regional understanding. The list of sake is impressive with the featured brewery Nihonshu Oendan given ample room to shine. The comprehensive range of Japanese spirits is well explained, too. The wine list shows the same level of care with cult grower Jacques Selosse heading the impressive Champagne list. An enticing list of wines 'by the glass' is backed by a carefully curated list of cornerstone wines from around the world. The layout by weight and style rather than region and variety adds energy as does the wide-ranging list of spirits. A very impressive list that deserves plundering.

AURORA DISNEYLAND, SHANGHAI

DISNEYLAND HOTEL

No. 1009 West Shendi Road, Pudong District, Shanghai
201205
021-20603582
<https://www.shanghaidisneyresort.com/dining/shanghai-disneyland-hotel/aurora/>
Cuisine: International with Asian touch
Wine list by David Guo
Wine on list: 189 (9 by the glass)
Wine prices: $
By the glass: 68 - 188 RMB

A wholly idiosyncratic wine list, so much so, it is easily one of a kind with numerous wines and wineries featured because of a connection with Walt Disney or the Disney family. Names such as Fess Parker, Frank Family, Skywalker Ranch and MacMurray Ranch provide the basis for the wine list before it shoots off into more traditional areas. Diners will recognise many of names on the main list even if they might need some prompting on the Disney-friendly wines.

AUX BEAUX ARTS, MGM MACAU 🍷🍷🍷

寶雅座

Avenida Dr. Sun Yat Sen, Nape, Macau (and SAR) - +8538802 2319
<https://www.mgm.mo/en/macau/dining/aux-beaux-arts>
Cuisine: French
Wine list by Chris Lam
Wine on list: 1543 (31 by the glass)
Wine prices: $$$
By the glass: 80 - 400 MOP

A formidable wine list by any reckoning, Aux Beaux Arts offers the cream of French wines as its focus. Think Krug, DRC, Raveneau, Georges de Vogüé, Mouton-Rothschild, Margaux, Lafite, d'Yquem, .etc., and you will find it here, often with multiple entries. It is a wine lover's dream listing. But that's not all. For the price of a wine by the glass, you can explore not only Krug and Lynch-Bages but a bigger world of quality wines. It is an exciting start to this list of 1500+ wines. There are some real star performances from Portugal and the U.S. All up, an exciting list but its wines definitely don't come cheaply.

AVANT 🍷🍷🍷

109A, Shennan Circuits Building, OCT East Road, Nanshan District, Shenzhen, Guangdong 518000
+86 18998996444
https://mp.weixin.qq.com/s/Dwb7U_Gdq3RbJycxWN4RHw
Cuisine: Modernism
Wine list by Paul Guan, Bobby Lin, Wang Qiran
Wine on list: 332 (19 by the glass)
Wine prices: $$$
By the glass: 198 - 668 RMB

Avant takes you on a tour of the world of wine, enticing you with an exciting array of varietals and styles from across the globe. It is an astute selection with fine wines at all price points. At the top end, you will find a Krug spotlight, plus a stunning Burgundy collection. Though, there are also plenty of more affordable choices, such as German Spätburgunder, a diverse selection of Spanish whites, and a good number of local Chinese wines. The wine-by-the-glass selection, and two wine pairings, are also excellent. It is a sophisticated list that will delight any connoisseur.

AZUR, SHANGRI-LA HOTEL, BEIJING

聚餐厅

Cuisine: French
Wine list by Fred Liu
Wine on list: 250 (10 by the glass)
Wine prices: $$$
By the glass: 98 - 288 RMB

This is the place to go if you are itching for - and can afford - some of the very best wine names in the wine world. They spill forth like jewels: Margaux, Jaboulet, Gaja, Antinori, Haut Brion and more. There is plenty to take in on this colourfully presented wine list which looks to both the Old and New Worlds of wine. The focus is on well-aged wines and classic grape varieties. The list of Chinese wines, particularly red, are well worth searching out.

BAO LI XUAN, BULGARI HOTEL SHANGHAI

www.bulgarihotels.com
Cuisine: Cantonese
Wine list by Adrian Zhang
Wine on list: 330 (22 by the glass)
Wine prices: $$$
By the glass: 150 - 510 RMB

A confident world list of wines that truly excites. From top grower Champagnes and intriguing white and red wines with an emphasis on regional styles from right across Italy and France, to some exotic support acts from places such as Corsica, Switzerland and stars of the orange wine world, there's a lot to explore, discover and enjoy. And, of course, in a restaurant boasting Cantonese cuisine the list of Chinese wines is essential reading. Finish with one of the many whiskies listed and a top meal is assured.

BEIJING HONG KONG JOCKEY CLUB

Cuisine: Chinese
Wine list by Captain Wang
Wine on list: 100 (100 by the glass)
Wine prices: $
By the glass: 88 - 188 RMB

There is an impressive collection of aged wines in this Eurocentric list. If you are looking for a cellared bottle of Bordeaux, there are some real gems to be found. However, vintage is the essential factor to keep top of mind when choosing any wine from this list.

BISTRO WANG

Shimao 52+ mini mall, L501, Wuyi Road & Jianxiang Roads.,

Cuisine: Western Restaurant
Wine list by Li Yunmeng
Wine on list: 99 (11 by the glass)
Wine prices: $
By the glass: 60 - 90 RMB

A well-judged wine list that caters for those who wish to pay a modest, fair price for a wine of quality. The sommelier has roamed the international wine map and picked good, solid wine names such as Chateau Ste, Michelle, Josmeyer, Egon Muller, Vinã Casablanca, Yalumba, Bouchard and more to provide interest. Prices are fair and good drinking is assured.

Wine list by Corinne Mui, Lucas Liang
Wine on list: 145 (7 by the glass)
Wine prices: $$
By the glass: 58 - 98 RMB

One of the key elements of this impressive, well-presented list is its carefully compiled wine suggestions for the signature dishes; there are three suggestions of varying prices for each of the nine dishes. While the list is Euro-focused, it is great to see the inclusion of fifteen Chinese wines plus some well-chosen new-world inclusions. There is also a good selection of Baijiu and Sake. The curated nature is the real strength of this modern wine list, and the sommeliers are to be congratulated for their fresh, innovative approach.

Wine list by Mr Jack Lin
Wine on list: 430 (18 by the glass)
Wine prices: $$$
By the glass: 78 - 140 MOP

An extensive, wide-ranging and well compiled list. Impressive attention to mature wines and older vintages is evident throughout. While the list dips into regions around the globe, many only have one or two options. Fear not, they are thoughtful and represent quality. An enviable list of top, mature Bordeaux, well backed by Italians, especially.

BREAD STREET KITCHEN & BAR |

Cuisine: British and Mediterranean
Wine list by Aaron Ao
Wine on list: 350 (13 by the glass)
Wine prices: $$
By the glass: 98 - 238 RMB

Since 2018 when it was founded, Bread Street has been working to improve its selection of wines. This year the number of wines listed - 350 - increases significantly and there is a greater depth of wines to explore, in particular, French and Italian wines. Many diners will enjoy the selection of wines by the glass, which has increased in number, too, with some must-try names such as Chateau Musar, J.J. Prüm, Alvaro Palacios and Chateau D'Yquem. This is a top list but expect equally top prices.

Wine on list: 221 (8 by the glass)
Wine prices: $
By the glass: 50 - 75 RMB

The Brut Eatery wine list is well suited to the menu and the venue with its innovative structure adding pizzazz. Order, Chaos, Nature and Premier are the categories with each group split between Old World and New World offerings. The Order selection is built on the classics while new wave and alternative varieties bring an edge to the Chaos section. Prices are moderate with good value for the keen eyed.

Cuisine: Modern European

Wine list by James Teng

Wine on list: 444 (23 by the glass)

Wine prices: $$$

By the glass: 70 - 498 RMB

Café Grey continues to show the thoughtfulness and class that it exhibited in 2019 when it gained its place in the Hall of Fame by winning the Mainland China award. The list probes to all the corners of the globe showing legendary wines alongside up-and-coming stars. There is an extensive list by the glass, given additional gravitas thanks to Coravin. The feature on the wines of China is informative and offers a terrific range of the local drops. The selection from France is thoughtfully extensive and there are discoveries galore throughout the list.

Calypso in name but definitely Mediterranean in cuisine and in its wine offerings. The list here looks mainly to those Mediterranean names with the runs on the board, including big guns such as Antinori, Rousseau, Graillet, Roulet, Torres and more. Some of the best value wines can be found by the glass and the carafe, which also take in New World producers such as Greywacke, Ata Rangi and Hamilton Russell.

By the glass: 70 - 125 RMB

Unusually for a member of the Shangri-La hotel group, this is a relatively small wine list of just 83 wines. It's trimmed down in number but some of the signature wines usually found on the group's wine lists - the drool-worthy listing of DRC and Bordeaux big names - remain. Diners get a succinct view of the world of wine, with a quick dip into the major producing countries with a focus on France. Prices are reasonable for the most part.

A refreshing, modern wine list that embraces both emerging wine producers and familiar names to present an exciting range of styles whether it be Pét Nats, orange/amber wines, skin contact, natural, organic or biodynamic. The emphasis is on youthful whites catering especially to seafood, reds from small family producers from far and wide inclosing the Czech Republic, South Africa and Georgia and a serious collection of orange/amber wines and rosés. This list both challenges and excites.

Enormous attention has been paid to the offerings by the glass, which is always a good sign. Any doubts as to how good this list is are immediately put to rest by a fine array of champagnes. Very much a French-first list with many great names but plenty of other options if preferred. A fine knowledge of vintages is evident with the mature wines available. An excellent list.

Wine lists don't have to be large to deserve high praise, and this carefully crafted list at Chao Wai Yue Yan demonstrates this fact perfectly. It is a small, well-formed list showcasing quality producers from around the globe. The pricing in the main list is extremely fair; however, for those wanting to upgrade, there's also a curated 'Connoisseurs Collection' of rare, memorable wines. The by-the-glass listing is small, though it highlights some quality half bottles as an alternative. And for those looking for Baijiu and Huangjiu, a small set of aged bottles is available.

This is a terrific wine list, well curated with protein aficionados clearly in mind. The focus is on France with a strong emphasis on Burgundy and Champagne. That said, the depth of Bordeaux listing is extensive with back vintages a feature. California and Italy are well represented with, once again, red wines at the fore – after all, this is a steakhouse. The depth of the spirits list adds gravitas.

Guincho a Galera shares much of its huge wine list with its siblings at the Grand Lisboa Hotel. Like those it offers the rare chance to taste vertical after vertical of the world's greatest wines, hand-picked from the magnificent Hotel cellar. The French selection shines, but, equally lip-smacking are the German, Italian, Spanish and US sections. The emphasis is on classic, aged wines which definitely come at a price, but this is a once-in-a-lifetime experience.

Chengdu's Hao Men Oyster Bar has a wine list that is admirably in tune with the light, bright food that it serves. Although it's a small list by the glass, its choices point clearly to wines that suit oysters. The number of sparkling wines available, too, are a clear indication of the way to go. As they serve more than oysters, there's wines to suit other foods: whatever, you can be confident that thought has gone into the choices.

This special restaurant creates exceptional Guanfu cuisine, the food of aristocrats. So it is only fitting that the wine list achieves similar heights. The selection is sublime, with high-end producers who strive for excellence. You will find names such as Egly-Ouriet, J.J.Prim, Benjamin Leroux and Château Rieussec...and that's just by the glass! The main list is brimming with wines of the highest calibre, and rather than being overwhelming in volume, it is carefully curated. The Burgundies and Bordeaux, as one would expect, are sublime.

The wines-by-the-glass selection sets the tone for this stunning list. In addition to the seventeen main choices, which are impressive on their own, there are also seven premium options, break taking in their quality and prestige. The main list sees producer spotlights on the likes of Henri Giraud, Domaine Prieuré Roch, Domaine Guy Roulot, Domaine Armand Rousseau and Domaine LeFlaive. The quality theme continues with the main listing, where prestige wines reign, particularly those from France.

A stunning wine list with many highlights that perfectly complements the cuisine. Firstly, it is hard to go past the "Duck & Wine Pairing", where Champagne, textural whites and vibrant reds have been selected for the affinity with Beijing Roast Duck. There's also the well-chosen selection by the glass, with helpful descriptions, including premium wines served using the Coravin system. Commendation must also go to the stunning selection of Chinese regional wines. The main list presents a sweep of international wines, with a focus on European wines, where vintage and producer have been carefully considered.

Again, French wines are the hero, though there are great examples of seafood-friendly styles from elsewhere, such as the Mosel in Germany. There is also a good number of wines from Australia. Highlights of the list include the strong set of Champagnes, the impressive Bordeaux listing and, of course, the quality selection of white and red Burgundies, including a collection of Domaine de la Romanée-Conti. It is also great to see good listings from the new world and China, and commendable that there are many well-priced options alongside the icons. Organic, natural and vegan-friendly wines are clearly marked, and there's also a good range of fruit iced teas, mineral waters and juices.

Best Hotel Restaurant List

F&B Manager of the Year - Marcus Van der Meer

David Huan's carefully-chosen and immaculately presented list at 'The Manor' offers a tour of the great wine regions of the world. The compact list offers introductions to the best wines of the finest producers as well as outstanding examples of more modestly-priced wines from these regions. It's an extensive list by the glass, wide-ranging yet tightly focused on impressive quality and fair value. The choice of champagnes covers all the significant Grand Marque producers and all the important styles of bubbly. There's a decent range of wines from China which will serve as a useful introduction to visitors to the country. Those looking for a lift towards the end of the meal will find the choice of cocktails and spirits has plenty to tempt them. Again, it's the quality of the list rather than its size that delights. In his introduction, Duan talks about their pride in matching the restaurant's wines to the chef's dishes. This is best realised in the six course set dinner menu which circles the globe to find ideal wines for the chef's finest.

When dining in an establishment as elegant and refined as Mansion Cuisine by Jingyan, one of the pleasures is having a highly curated wine list where it is impossible to put a foot wrong. The list is a roll call of the world's greatest producers. Felton Road, Grosset, Egon Müller, Gaja, Coche-Dury, Domaine LeFlaive, and the list goes on and on. It is rare to find a list like this: small, targeted and prestigious. Being a new list, the vintages overall are relatively youthful, though, like a fine wine, it will evolve beautifully with time.

This stylish list is what we've come to expect from the team at Jean Georges. It's great to see the bold beginning highlighting its Chinese wines in a way that too few restaurants do: and pleasing to see one featured by the glass. That list features a wonderfully drinkable selection of international wines. The Mercato list is compact but so beautifully chosen that it earns its three glass rating because of the quality of its choices. So it dances around the world of wine with just a few selected from a great number of places. It's a delight.

Extensive and classical, this list easily incorporates expensive cult wines alongside more affordable wines. Concentrates on Italian wines as per its signature cuisine, delving into the country from the north - the Veneto and Piemonte are particularly well-served - all the way down to the south and Puglia, Campania and Sicily. It's an exciting wine ride before the list goes off in search of good wines across Europe and beyond. Fresh, young energetic whites take on a starring role, so good to see and well-suited to the menu. Equally at home is the depth of the French and Italian reds. To finish, try one of the many producers of grappa, it's quite a listing.

This new restaurant in Chengdu offers a terrific range in each section of its large list by the glass, although no sparkling wines are poured. It does make up for it with an impressive collection of champagnes. There are substantial sections of whites from France, Germany, Italy and smaller offerings from around the world. It's a similar situation with reds, fabulous in Burgundy and Bordeaux and very good in many of the world's most important regions. As it makes a fuss of aperitivo, this is probably one place where it's necessary to follow the locals to begin the meal.

The list begins with the Cellar Extraordinary: four top-rank champagnes, four of the greatest whites of the last 30 years, and five of the finest Bordeaux since the War. This is followed by the classiest Coravin selection imaginable: a group that gives new meaning to 'by the glass'. Then an impressive collection by the glass for us mortals. Few would be anything but delighted by the quality here. The world of luxury continues with halves and magnums, Dom Perignon, Cristal and Krug selections. Then, verticals of the finest French whites imaginable, more than 30 vintages of most of the top Bordeaux, mouth-watering Burgundy, Yquem (of course)... There's Italy, California, Australia, too. Importantly, presentation of the list is immaculate.

There's small list by the glass does reveal Panos' colours as a steakhouse by lifting the game with the quality of its reds. Most of the small range of whites are French before the main game: reds. There is a serious collection from all major areas of Bordeaux, and all the first growths. Burgundy is similarly serious before a small range from around Europe and the rest of the world.

This by-the-bottle-only list focuses on the wines of France, though it also has a selection from Germany, Italy, Spain, Austria and the USA. Natural wines, skin contact and those made with organic/biodynamic principles or without sulphur are clearly marked. The obviously passionate wine team are to be commended for compiling an of-the-minute comprehensive listing of contemporary styles. Though, as the name 'Pinot & Chard' suggests, the list's primary focus is the wines of Burgundy.

This is an international list clearly targeting a clientele which are looking for good quality wines at fair prices. And they are well catered for here. It's a small list of wines by the glass: in each section, one of the wines is offered at a bargain basement price while at least one other is more expensive but still good value. The list continues in this fashion circling the globe, accepting that there are no cheap champagnes, yet in France, other European countries, Australia and New Zealand, and at home in China, there is quality to be had at reasonable prices. Again, in each section it's possible to pay more. There is a vintage wine section which looks at Bordeaux (mainly) and some of the great wines of the world.

Best Chinese Restaurant List

This is a WOW! wine list, where art and creativity meet wine. It is quite unlike any wine list you will probably come across. Created by Meiju Li, China's first female advanced sommelier, and housed in a former art gallery, the connection with art and philosophy is strong as the list - just 82 wines in total - explores wine across four main themes: Leisure, Affection, Elegance and Interest with a side bar devoted to old vintages. Expect a taste of the unexpected. Wines by the glass is devoted exclusively to Chinese wines, a rarity in our opinion and a most welcome addition. The wines, all quality names, are selected from all over the world of wine, some names not commonly seen in China. This list sets the scene for a fantastic night of exploration that doesn't follow the usual pattern of wine lists. It asks you to embrace the innovative, and that will undoubtedly prove to be an exhilarating experience.

An impressive international wine list that complements the sophisticated menu. USDA Prime beef is the hero of the menu, so you will find plenty of flavoursome reds to accompany, notably from France and Italy. But the diversity of the menu commands a broad wine list, and the wine team have presented an international selection that will please all diners. It is excellent to see a mix of old and new world producers.

At Steak Universe, they do things differently, which is excellent news for wine buffs. Firstly, the by-the-glass selection is excellent: you can order wines by the glass or carafe, including delights such as Dr Loosen or a South African Cinsault. They also offer a stunning Coravin selection, including aged examples of iconic wines. The list has terrific clarity and confidently lists lesser-known names alongside acclaimed labels. In fact, they have successfully combined the contemporary with the classic in a way few lists manage to do. In addition, there is a vast array of quality spirits and cocktails. Mention must also be made of the impressive art design. It is a slick list, without a doubt, and a global feast for drinks lovers.

This high-end wine list is a thrilling collection of treasured wines. Along with a fine set by the glass, with premium wines served by Coravin, the list moves with the seasons, offering a selection of wines complementary to the seasonal menu. In addition, there are producers spotlights, such as a page devoted to the wines of Duval Leroy, including rare back vintages. There is a fabulous set of grower Champagnes as well as an extensive listing from classic houses. I applaud the vast range of German wines, something not often seen in China. But, of course, lovers of the French classics are well-catered too. And you'll find admired producers from Italy, Spain, the USA and New Zealand. It is a top wine list demonstrating the wine team's excellent knowledge and passion and will delight all discerning wine lovers.

Sui Tang Li brings a vibrant, modern feel to its wine list which works so well with its modern Chinese cuisine. A selection of traditional moutai, spirits and teas sit alongside a hand-picked grouping of world wines, led by the French. Biodynamic producers feature throughout together with the odd orange wine. Select a theme - the list is creatively curated by theme - and dive in. There are many to choose from including Mediterranean Sunshine, Colours of Champagne, Bordeaux Style of New World and Curiosity Rewarded. Plenty of thought-provoking ideas here for accompanying an equally thought-provoking cuisine.

Tavola has a lot to offer the diner, from its thorough range of Italian wines from right across the country to a solid group of wines by the glass and by the half bottle, there is much to consider in all things Italian. However, there is more, including a terrific selection of Chinese wines from sparkling through to sweet wines. An interesting consumer-minded addition is a section on outstanding vintages for notable wine regions with many of the vintages named appearing on the list. And it's worth taking time to consider the sweet wines and Portuguese fortifieds from Graham and Warre's to finish your meal.

Cuisine: New style fusion Chaoshan

Wine list by Jinpeng Li

Wine on list: 558 (7 by the glass)

Wine prices: $

By the glass: 98 - 1280 RMB

Heavily skewed towards the cream of Bordeaux, Burgundy & Champagne, the Xin Cuo is a collectors indulgence, with highlights like all time mature icons like 1985 Romanee Conti & 1982 Lafite.

What a pleasure to see some imagination with this small list from Yearning, with sections for Prestige and Interesting Variety that indicate a desire to look beyond the norms. It extends to the selection too, like skin contact NZ Sauv or Greek Moschofilero. It would be wonderful to see this depth translated into the by the glass selection in the future.

There's both breadth and depth to the Yi Cafe wine list with a solid selection of wines 'by the glass' to get things started. While the focus remains on the classic wines of France, there's good support from the USA and Italian listings in particular. The half-bottle offering is impressive as is the list of spirits and cocktails. The mini-verticals from quality Burgundian winegrowers adds panache

Some quality Burgundy/Pinot Noir under Coravin is a fine opening to a wide-ranging list. Lovers of great champagnes will be very happy delving into this collection, and fans of top burgundy even more so. There is a fine sprinkling of top names from regions throughout both the New and Old World, plus an appealing array of local wines. Intriguing list of sake.

Offerings from the top regions of France in the 'by the glass' section set the tone for this list. There is a pleasing choice of famous names and emerging producers throughout – some great names indeed, for those who like a little big game hunting – DRC, Lafon, Leflaive, Leroy, Dujac, Rousseau, among others. Burgundy fans will be salivating. Lovers of great Bordeaux will be equally enamoured.

From the outset this list provides interest, with a Sommelier Recommends selection with character, and a Coravin by the glass lineup that showcases icons. With sections broken down by country and region, this list aims very high, even if some of the choices can feel a tad uncompromising. A special mention to the short descriptions of key regions (like the Loire) show a rare understanding of what makes wine unique.

The Yue Zhuhai wine list is short and snappy with a proudly parochial emphasis on the wines of China. All bases are covered with the layout by 'Old Country' and 'New world' an innovative approach. The educational tasting notes are a highlight.

A small but thoughtful wine list of just 37 wines, Zi Fu Qian mixes plenty of good drinking options with the chance to also strike out and enjoy some iconic names. The emphasis is on France, but do look out for the odd Chinese wine including a rosé from Penglai and a rkatsiteli from Turpan.

If you love Bordeaux red wine, Zun Wu is the place to be – especially if you enjoy a good hot pot. While the focus is on Bordeaux, the rest of France is not neglected nor other wines from both the northern and southern hemispheres. That said, this is a wine list aimed specifically at the many lovers of the red wines of Bordeaux.
